PAGE 14 For All Auction Sales

That Take Place To-day.

NO. 5,966. SATURDAY-Probably snow.

By New York Journal and Advertiser, -NEW YORK, MARCH 18, 1899.-16 PAGES. SATURDAY-Probably snow,

PRICE ONE CENT In Greater New York -- Elsewhere, and Jersey City. TWO CENTS

MISSING IN NEW Y FATAL AND MOST AV

THE TEN FATAL MINUTES OF THE GREAT FIRE--INSTANTANEOUS PHOTOGRAPHS.

Five Minutes After the Walls Fell. OKING DOWN FIFTH AVENUE FROM FORTY-SEVENTH STREET

Fifth Avenue, Showing Helen Gould's House, Instantaneous photograph of the Forty-seventh street corner of the burning hotel. The Gould house that was used as a temporary hospital is on the corner opposite the blazing tower.

was used as a temporary hospital is on the corner opposite the blazing tower. CONNOLLY, JOHN, a window cleaner, No. 208 East Forty-fourth street, died in Flower Hospital from a fractured skull received in jumping from a fourth-story window; leaves a wife and two children. Throw Themselves Into the Street from the rope fire escape from sixth floor, and died in Miss Helen Gould's house. UNKNOWN WOMAN, jumped from a wife and two children. The Windows of the Windsor on the Fifth avenue fired in Flower Hospital from the rope fire escape from sixth floor, and died in Miss Helen Gould's house. UNKNOWN WOMAN, jumped fired in Flower Hospital from a fourth-story window; leaves a wife and two children. Throw Themselves Into the Street from the rope fire escape from sixth floor, and died in Miss Helen Gould's house. UNKNOWN WOMAN, jumped fired in Flower Hospital from a fourth-story window; leaves a wife and two children. The Windows of the Windsor on the Fifth avenue fired in Flower windows of the Street fired in Flower Hospital from the rope fire escape from sixth floor, and died in Miss Helen Gould's house. UNKNOWN WOMAN, jumped fired in Flower Hospital from a fourth-story window; leaves a wife and two children. Throw Throw Themselves Into the rope fire escape from sixth floor, and died in Miss Helen Gould's house. UNKNOWN WOMAN, jumped fired in Flower Hospital from the rope fired with the rope fired windows of the fired sixth received in jumping the rope window; leaves a wife and two children. Throw Windows of the Windows of the hotel in Flower windows of the hotel in Flower windows of the fired sixth received in Jumping the rope window in Flower windows of the hotel in Flower windows of the hotel in Flower windows of the fired sixth received in Jumping the rope windows of the rope of the hotel in Flower windows of the rope of the hotel in Flower windows of the fired sixth received in Jumping the rope of th Fifth Avenue.

HE Windsor Hotel caught fire in some unknown way at half-past 2 o'clock vesterday afternoon, Within an hour the building was a glowing shell of shattered walls.

Fifteen people are dead as the result.

Forty-three people, variously injured, are at the hospitals. The bodies of many more are supposed to be buried in the smouldering ruins.

The dead include many people of wealth and prominence and a large, but unknown, number of the employes of the hotel.

The money loss is between two and three millions of dollars.

Though New York has experienced fires involving greater financial loss, and perhaps even greater mortality, it never had a fire abounding in so many incidents of horror or so many splendid examples of heroism.

The reason for the dreadful loss of life is that the Windsor Hotel, though one of the most magnificent of the city, was of old type and inflammable construction, so that many were cut off from escape before they learned their danger.

Hundreds of thousands of people watched the fire and the dreadful scenes—the jumping of victimes from windows to death in the street, or falling back from the windows into the burning building were enacted before the eyes of as many people as could crowd into the neighboring streets.

No steps can be taken to search the ruins for bodies for many hours, until the seething debris

Five Minutes Before the Walls Fell LOOKING DOWN FIFTH AVENUE FROM FORTY-EIGHTH STREET.

Fifty-first street station; identified by Ludovic De E. Spirdon, No. 48 East Twenty-second street.

KIRK, MRS. NANCY ANN, seventy-five, No. 365 Ridge avenue, Chicago; died at Bellevue Hospital from shock and internal injuries. Her husband was the founder of the big soap manufacturing concern bearing his name.

LELAND, MRS. WARREN, wife of the proprietor of the hotel; burned abcut the face and hands; died at Flower Hospital.

LELAND, MISS HELEN, 20, daughter of the proprietor; burned body; identified at the East Fifty-first street, PADDOCK, AMELIA, 35, of Irving-ton-on-the-Husbon; jumped from window; died before an ambulance reached the scene. The body is at the East Fifty-first street station.

PIERCE, MRS, M., Macou, Ga., said to be a sister-in-law of Governor Candler, of Georgiz; died at No. 19 East Forty-sixth street.

UNKNOWN MAN, about 35 years, weighing 150 pounds, and about five feet ix inches; rather well dressed;

MRS. ANNETTA UPHAM, daughter of John Betts, of No. 48 Mudison avenue. Miss BELL, No. 48 M

CONNOLLY, JOHN, a window stantly killed.
UNKNOWN WOMAN, partially iden-

Hotel; fell from an upper story into an air shaft.

GOODMAN, ELEANOR LOUISE, seventeen, daughter of Samuel Goodman, a railroad official; died at Bellevue Hospital. She jumped Rom a sixth-story window and fractured her skull.

GRANDY, MISS LASELLES, Elizabeth City, N. C.; body is at the East Fifty-first street station; identified by Ludovic De E. Spirdon, No. 48 East

THE INJURED

H. WARTON, of No. 104 West Sev-